

FDAC Blogs

This series of blogs about FDAC practice was commissioned by Family Law throughout 2017. The reflections – from FDAC practitioners, judges and advisers – continue to be live issues for the FDAC network, and we hope they will be of interest to readers. Some of the given web links changed during FDAC’s move from the former National Unit to FDAC’s current base at CJI. Please contact us if you have comments or queries. Vicki Morris, Deputy Director, vmorris@centrejusticeinnovation.org.

Family Drug and Alcohol Court: an introduction

The FDAC Trial for change combining expert assessment and intervention during proceedings

Working with parents in a problem-solving way: new evidence about Family Drug and Alcohol Courts

FDAC - a trauma informed service

Picking the ‘right’ cases for FDAC - is it possible?

Non-lawyer review hearings - at the heart of a successful FDAC

What counts as success in FDAC cases?

Understanding Children’s Needs and Timescales within the FDAC Model

FDAC parent mentors - a unique approach to supporting parents

Sustaining FDACs in times of austerity

Testing for drugs and alcohol in FDAC