

FDAC parent-to-parent letters evaluation

Your local FDAC is taking part in an evaluation to see whether letters written by parents who have already been through FDAC can support and motivate other parents on their FDAC journey.

One half of new FDAC families will receive three letters during their time with FDAC, and one half of families will not receive the letters. Which group each family is in is complete chance. Nobody is making this decision deliberately. This is so that we can test whether the letters are helpful. We will ask some parents for more feedback so we can understand your views.

If you do not want to receive these letters, please tell your FDAC caseworker.

If we find that these letters are helpful, courts would be able to use them with all parents in the future.
